

SATURDAY EVENING
POST

APR 25 1964

CPYRGHT

Donovan's strangers

James B. Donovan's tale, STRANGERS ON A BRIDGE [Mar. 28], certainly confirms the old adage, "Truth is stranger than fiction." I am impressed by what he has accomplished without benefit of cloak and dagger.

M. LOUISE DUGGAN
Holyoke, Mass.

CPYRGHT

• Donovan sure plays the hero's role to the hilt in his article on the Powers-Abel fiasco. I fail to see anything honorable enough in the whole mess to warrant this pose.

ROGER A. GOULD
New Carlisle, Ohio